Wellsville Pupil Wins Parochial Bee

Making his first appearance in a spelling bee his best, Jim McPeak, 13-year-old Wellsville youth, won the Columbiana County parochial school championship Saturday afternoon at St. Aloysius School, East Liverpool.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James McPeak, the eighth grader at Immaculate Conception School, and Jacqueline Davis, 13, also 13 and an eighth grade student at Our Lady of Lourdes in East Palestine, will represent the five parochial schools in the countywide finals Friday night at David Anderson High School gymnasium in Lisbon. Jacqueline is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Davis.

The two were the survivors of 15 youngsters ranging from third to eighth grade seeking the parochial title and the right to represent their schools among the 32 contestants in the countywide spell-down.

Jim was "competent", spelling that word to clinch the crown after Jacqueline missed "renovate" with an "i" which the Wellsville student got correctly.

For an instant, it appeared the bee was going to end immediately after Diana Steele of Salem St. Paul's switched the "eu" in "pneumonia" to finish third.

Jacqueline promptly missed "accelerate" but Jim misspelled the same word with both get-

Sunday Auto Traffic Heavy; Mishaps Few

Despite heavy traffic coaxed out by sunny late winter weather, only four minor auto mishaps occurred Sunday on Columbiana County highways. The Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol cited three motorists.

Cited were Mrs. Mary G. McFerron, 27, of Damascus, speed excessive for conditions; Robert O. Whitmore, 19, of RD 1, New Waterford, driving left of center; and Jack E. Watson, 36, of East Liverpool, making an improper left turn.

Struck the rear of a new sedan operated by John Glekler, 41, of RD 1, Belmont, Sunday at 4:05 p.m. on Route 62, about six miles west of Salem, as Glekler, heading east, was turning north.

Whitmore's car and another operated by Grace L. Weber, 32, of RD 1, East Palestine, collided at 6:50 p.m. on a hillcrest on County Rd. 421, a mile north of New Waterford, when the man drifted left of center.

Leonard Lee Selby, 17, of 530 N. Summer St., East Palestine, was uninjured when his car overturned Sunday at 6:40 p.m. on Route 14, about a mile east of Route 7, northeast of Columbiana.

Selby's vehicle rolled over when he veered off the road on a curve to avoid hitting an oncoming motorist who, the youth

LBJ Asks Youth Job Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gave Congress marching orders today for the war on poverty, concentrating his $962.5-million attack on helping needy young Americans.

The program to help youngsters in the 16 to 21 age bracket centers on a job corps reminiscent of the Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s.

"The years of high school and college age are the most critical stage of a young person's life," Johnson said, in a special message on poverty. "If they are not helped then, many will be condemned to a life of poverty which they, in turn, will pass on to their children."

The job corps would enlist up to 100,000 young men, draft rejects and school dropouts, from "those whose background, health and education makes them least fit for useful work."

These young men would be removed from their slum backgrounds and placed in camps to work on conservation projects and in special job training centers for a blend of training, basic education and work experience.

Other phases of the youth program are work-training and work-study projects, federal grants to provide full or part-time jobs to help youngsters stay in high school, take vocational training or work their way through college.

Coordinating the war on poverty will be a new executive agency, the Office of Economic Opportunities, which Johnson said would be headed by Sargent Shriver, "my personal chief of staff for the war against poverty."

In addition to the Job Corps, Shriver also will supervise creation of another new group, the Volunteers for America, a Peace Corps-styled body of 3,000 to 5,000 volunteers who will work in various phases of the war on poverty.

Both the Job Corps and the Volunteers for America are taken from legislation now pending in Congress — the Youth Conservation Corps and the National Service Corps respectively.

Other phases of the war on poverty asked by Johnson included:

—A program of grants of up to 90 per cent for urban and rural community action programs, where local plans were drafted to utilize all available community resources, public and private, to wipe out pockets of poverty.

—Special grants and loans to help boost the incomes of subsistence farmers.

—Special low interest loans for investment that will provide jobs for low-income families or persons who have been out of jobs for many months, and also to small business not eligible for regular loans from the small business administration.

—Expansion of a Welfare Department program to help train and find jobs for heads of families whose children now receive payments under the aid to dependent children program.

So far, a White House source said, selection standards have not been set up for the Job Corps, nor have detailed plans been made for setting up the camps and job training center.

The source said many of the 40,000 recruited for the Job Corps in the first year would come from the backlog of more than one million already rejected.

Ruby Lawyers Drafting Appeal Charge Defendant 'Was Railroaded'

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Ruby remained alone in a jail cell today while his attorneys prepared to appeal the verdict of a Dallas jury which sentenced him to death for murder.

"Maximum security" surrounds Ruby, Sheriff Bill Decker said.

But Ruby's attorney, Melvin Belli, said he is worried about a possible attempt on Ruby's life and has asked for extra protection for him.

"Later on," Decker said, "when he has adjusted to the jolt of the verdict, he probably will be put in a large cell with other prisoners. He's had maximum security from the beginning and he will continue to have it in jail."

Dallas authorities refused to "dignify by comment" a statement Belli has made several times since Ruby was convicted Saturday morning of killing Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

"Ruby is worried, and so am I, that they may slip someone into his cell—another prisoner—with a shiv (knife) in order to prevent our appeal. Then they would make it appear as a suicide and this vicious city would have him off their hands."

Throughout the 23-day trial, three guards sat near Ruby in court—so near, in fact, that Belli once protested they were listening to his conversations with Ruby. They were seated in such a way as to be able to watch the spectators.

Saturday, before the verdict was handed down, Decker put three more in the front row of seats.

"I haven't gambled since they brought Ruby here," the sheriff said, "and I'm certainly not going to gamble today."

Belli continued to rage against the "Dallas oligarchy" and insisted that Ruby was "railroaded."

Ten days ago Belli told this reporter, "the Dallas oligarchy has ordered Ruby's execution. You'll see."

In Texas, the jury fixes the penalty. For murder, punishment ranges from two years in death in the electric chair.

Ruby's lawyers can take the first step toward an appeal by asking Judge Joe B. Brown for a new trial. They have 10 days to file.

Since a trial judge seldom reverses himself, the next step would be the Texas Criminal Court of Appeals within 90 days.

A "full bill of exceptions" to Brown's rulings during the trial is being prepared, Belli said. The defense filed 139 exceptions to the language in Brown's charge to the jury.

Oswald was shot to death Nov. 24 as he was being transferred from one jail to another.

Harry Steele Had Planned to Wed

Leetonia Soldier Is Traffic Victim

LEETONIA — The bridal clothes arrived Saturday in preparation for a bright August wedding, but death that same night had made other plans.

The 21-year-old soldier-bridegroom-to-be, Specialist 5 Harry Lee Steele, was killed in a head-on two-car crash Saturday night on the plains of Kansas.

He was engaged to his high school sweetheart, Jacqueline Barrett, who, moments before the tragedy, had been happily dreaming of her wedding day amid the newly-arrived clothes. They were to have been married Aug. 8 at St. Patrick's Church here.

Steele, a laboratory technician at Irwin Army Hospital at Ft. Riley, Kansas, was killed, along with two other soldiers and a civilian in the crash on Kansas Highway 18, about 13 miles west of Junction City. Details of the accident were unavailable.

He was the son of Harry C. and Ada Jean Garis Steele of 220 Elm St. His fiancée, a Leetonia High School senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Barrett of 369 Pearl St.

Steele graduated from Leetonia High School in June, 1961. Six months after that, he enlisted in the Army. He attended the University of Kansas under an Army medical laboratory technician training program, graduating first in a class of 45. A top scholar at Leetonia High, he had plans for a career in medicine after his discharge from the Army.

An expert shot with firearms and an avid hunter since youth, Steele was a member of the National Rifle Club and team. He has also belonged to the Boy Scouts.

At Leetonia High, the popular youth was a budding half-miler on the track team until he took on part-time work. He was also

Couple Eludes Reporters for Secret Ceremony

MONTREAL (AP) — "Elizabeth and I are very happy," said Richard Burton after he and Elizabeth Taylor were married Sunday in a quiet ceremony that contrasted sharply with their widely publicized romance.

The simple, single-ring ceremony was performed in the royal suite of Montreal's Ritz-Carlton Hotel by the Rev. Leonard Mason, pastor of the Unitarian Church of the Messiah. Eleven guests attended.

It was the fifth marriage for Miss Taylor, 32, one of the film world's highest paid and most beautiful stars. Burton, 38, son of a Welsh miner, had been married once.

The couple was to return today to Toronto where Burton is playing the lead in a production of "Hamlet" due in New York next month.

The bride wore a yellow chiffon gown designed by Hollywood's Irene Sharaff. She carried a bouquet of yellow freesia. Burton wore a sprig of it in his lapel.

Robert Wilson, a friend of Burton from New York City, was best man. There was no announcement of who attended Miss Taylor. A champagne party followed the ceremony.

The romance began two years ago when Burton played Anthony to Miss Taylor's Cleopatra in the Rome production of that movie.

The wedding was shrouded in secrecy. Eluding reporters in Toronto, the couple flew to Montreal in a chartered airliner and were whisked off to the hotel.

This was in sharp contrast to the fanfare surrounding Miss Taylor's marriages to hotel heir Conrad Hilton Jr., actor Michael Wilding, Mike Todd, the late

Lodge To Keep Job, LBJ Says

President Denies Split With Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he has no indication that Henry Cabot Lodge plans to leave his post as ambassador to South Viet Nam.

"If he did, I am sure he would let me know," Johnson told a nationwide radio and television audience Sunday night. He added that the ambassador, whose political stock boomed with victory in New Hampshire's Republican presidential primary, has tended to business and behaved properly.

On his own side of the political fence, Johnson dismissed as "newspaper talk" reports of a rift with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and said he has taken Kennedy's word that he has done nothing to encourage efforts to boom the attorney general for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Johnson said he hopes the Democrats will not campaign actively until after this summer's convention, although he said he intends to "carry out some commitments that President Kennedy made for fundraising dinners from time to time."

Politics and foreign policy dominated the hour-long "Conversation with the President" broadcast by the ABC, CBS and NBC radio and television networks. These were among the chief executive's other major pronouncements:

—He has had no contact with his old friend, Bobby Baker, since Baker resigned in October as secretary to the Senate Democrats. The President said Baker could not properly be called his protégé because "he was there before I came to the Senate for 10 years."

—He intends to be "a people's president." And he will continue to mix with crowds even though his bodyguards "would feel better if the presi-

Barry Victory California Republican Assembly Endorses Senator

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater carried the strife-torn endorsement of the 14,000-member California Republican Assembly into the state's primary campaign today.

Conservatives topped off their Goldwater victory by capturing control of the volunteer party organization in a free swinging contest with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's forces.

Climaxing a stormy 12-hour Sunday session, the outnumbered Rockefeller delegates staged a walkout before the vote committing the CRA to support the Arizona senator in his California race against the New York governor.

The Rockefeller faction battled to prevent any endorsement but there was never any doubt about the outcome. All the Rockefeller backers could do was fight a long delaying action that turned the convention into a parliamentary nightmare.

Goldwater swept the endorsement by a lopsided margin on a standing vote with only two dozen or so Rockefeller members still around to register a protest.

All the pent-up rancor in Republican ranks burst out in the well-planned maneuver by the conservatives to take over the party's statewide club movement. The Young Republicans Federation fell to them last year.

Goldwater spokesmen accused the Rockefeller camp of trying to tarnish the senator's endorsement.

President Roberto Chiari confirmed in Panama City the agreement announced by the OAS.

Panama broke diplomatic relations with the United States Jan. 10 after rioting in the Panama Canal Zone left 21 persons dead and some 200 wounded. It said it would not resume relations until the United States agreed to renegotiate the 1903 treaty under which it has perpetual rights to operate the canal.

For its part, the United States said resumption of diplomatic relations must precede any talks about the canal's future.

Sunday night's announcement by Ambassador Juan Plate of Paraguay, chairman of the special OAS committee investigating the crisis and seeking a reconciliation, said:

"The governments of the Republic of Panama and of the United States of America have agreed to re-establish diplomatic relations as soon as possible to seek the prompt elimination of the causes of conflict relative to the Panama Canal."

The agreement calls for both

He was on a routine cross-country training trip from Beaufort, S.C., to Barksdale Air Force Base here when he encountered turbulent weather.

Kennedy's parents live at 1612 Park Ave., East Liverpool.

The serviceman also leaves his wife of El Toro, Calif., and a sister of Midland, Pa.

Funeral services will be held either at Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D.C., or at Corpus Christi, Texas.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODY ISHMAEL

WEEP FOR YOURSELVES AND YOUR CHILDREN

On the way to Calvary, Jesus was followed by a great crowd of people, including a number of women, who were weeping and wailing.

"O Daughters of Jerusalem," Jesus said to them, "do not weep for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children."

"For behold, days are coming in which men will say, 'Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bore, and breasts that never nursed.'"

"Then they will begin to say to the mountains, 'Fall upon us,' and to the hills, 'Cover us!'" (Luke XXIII:28-30)

At this time, because He had grown so weak with suffering, the soldiers got Simon of Cyrene, a stranger in the country, to help Him carry the cross.

FICTION

THE LAND BREAKERS by John Ehle. This is a novel of pioneering in the Smoky Mountains in the Carolinas. There are the hardy people, their few primitive tools, their struggle against the forces of nature, against the beasts, and sometimes against each other are told with an unusual sense of what it must have been like in those days and a large ability to spin a good yarn.

SING FOR YOUR SUPPER by Pamela Frankau. Philip Weston was an actor - not a very good one - whose wife had died leaving him with three children. When we meet them they are 16, 13 and 10. They are spending the summer where their father is playing in summer stock and are in charge of an eminently correct and intelligent "nany". When the youngest, Thomas, is discovered to have supernatural powers there is quite an upheaval in the family. This is light and entertaining, and will be followed by two more novels about the same characters.

THREE BEDS IN MANHATTAN by Georges Somenon. A very French and well done short novel about two people from Europe who find each other at loose ends in New York. The story concerns the impact they have on each other and what changes this makes in their lives.

GREEN HEART by Vian Smith. The setting is the English countryside in Dartmoor, the story that of a young woman who coaxes a broken-down steed to chase mare back to health. There is both help and interference from the people around her to make a story for various ages of those who like horses.

THIS IS THE YEAR TO BUY A GREAT CAR FROM A GREAT BUNCH OF GUYS

The Dodge Boys were first-place finishers in '63 as Dodge led the entire automotive industry in percentage of sales increase—and they're out to top that record in '64. Here are four big reasons why the Dodge Boys are odds-on favorites to lead the league again:

- 1 They have great cars to sell—the compact Dodge Dart, the low-price Dodge, and the big Dodge 880.
- 2 They give the best deals in town—low prices, big trade-ins.
- 3 They specialize in courteous, reliable service.
- 4 They give the best warranty in the industry: five years or 50,000 miles.

Who's to knock that kind of success formula? Not the Dodge Boys. Need we say more? THIS IS THE YEAR TO BUY A GREAT CAR FROM A GREAT BUNCH OF GUYS—THE DODGE BOYS.

COMPACT DODGE DART

LOW PRICE DODGE

BIG DODGE 880

HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1964 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings. REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

Two Points About the Subject

Two things about that sensational 2,000-mile-an-hour jet developed so secretly that no one knew about it keep looming larger and larger.

First is the fact the plane was developed with Central Intelligence Agency funds. It is estimated the development cost was half a billion dollars. In the light of the fierce skirmishes in Congress over development of other types of airplanes, half a billion dollars appropriated and spent painlessly under CIA auspices must be giving representatives and senators something to think about.

Pretty plainly, the way to get things done in the federal government is to get a CIA imprimatur early in the game, to open all the pocketbooks and hush all the second-guessers.

THIS IS ONE thing that keeps looming

Proper Planning

Columbia County's Regional Planning Commission is at work, in a quiet way, to lay the groundwork for a program of orderly, systematic development in the district.

The commission is composed of dedicated men who are taking time from their regular business duties, aware of the necessity of an objective program of county growth in the vital years that lie ahead. As discussed by committeemen at their recent March meeting at Lisbon, proper planning will correct haphazard development of rural and urban areas in the past and will help residents of the two segments to solve common problems. It also will help to protect existing resources and also will enable Columbia County to attract new industries and bolster its economic climate.

The commission has begun an important study. Any appropriation that county commissioners can make would constitute an investment in the future. Proper planning is a must.

Letter From Max

By Martin R. Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

Next time you are snowbound and time hangs heavy on your hands get a copy of Jonathan Swift's "Gulliver's Travels" and see how many of the characters you can match up with today's candidates and public officials.

You may remember that Swift had two political parties, divided on the issue of whether to crack an egg on the large end or the small end. Members of one party always cracked their eggs on the large end, and members of the other party always cracked theirs on the small end.

So far, we haven't had to face up to that yet in our country. If you have a preference as to which end of the egg to crack, let us know at your earliest opportunity. Only fence-straddlers crack eggs in the middle.

It sure is silly some of the things people get all worked up over. And a lot of them are just as preposterous as that egg-cracking nonsense.

You probably have a bunch of pet peeves which are just as silly as the next person's but you won't admit it. That is one thing I am proud of; I only get worked up over important things. It is a waste of time to worry about unimportant things.

YOU MAY HAVE heard me mention this before, but one of the things that really bothers me and I consider important is courtesy from other auto drivers. If there is anything that bugs me, it is to have the guy behind me toot his horn when the light changes and he thinks I should have taken off like a jackrabbit to clear the way for him.

Another thing I can't stand is to have somebody pass me while driving, then cut in front of me and slow up. Things like that shouldn't happen on the road and can only lead to hot tempers and trouble.

larger and larger — the idea of a CIA-developed plane, instead of a Defense Department-developed plane. If the superjet were going to be used to sp on someone, that would be different, but CIA says that isn't the idea at all.

The other thing that looms larger all the time is the revival of interest in titanium, once considered semiprecious metal. Titanium is used in the superjet. It is conceivable that titanium will be used in all high-speed planes of the future and that the country which knows most about working with it will have an important advantage.

A FEW YEARS ago, titanium was the most talked-about subject in the metal industry. But then the Defense Department swung to missiles instead of superjets and that killed titanium. But now it's alive again in at least a CIA kind of way.

And for an agency that can spend half a billion dollars to develop a superjet, that's a mighty big way.

Go Fly a Kite!

Kite flyers have limited space these days, compared to the time when dad was a boy. And that's why power company officials issue a few words of caution to boys when the March winds blow.

The sport can be dangerous, especially if it's in the area of utility lines. Their advice for safe kite flying is:

1. Don't use tinsel string, wire or any twine with metal in it.
2. Don't fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail.
3. Don't fly a kite in the rain.
4. Don't run across streets or highways while flying a kite.
5. Don't fly a kite over television or radio aerials.
6. Don't touch fallen electric wires.
7. Don't fly a kite near electric or power lines.
8. Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged kite.

They shouldn't allow such drivers to get licenses.

Another thing that makes me see red is to have someone muscle into a line at a bank or ticket window ahead of me. Who do such people think they are anyhow? My time is just as valuable as theirs; at least I think it is.

PEOPLE who borrow books and don't return them are a pain in the neck, too. The least they could do would be to try to get a book back to you when they finish reading it because you were doing them a favor by letting them have it in the first place. This reminds me that I have a book of yours that I finished a couple of months ago and I'll get it back to you within a day or two, if the weather holds.

And don't forget to hate people who owe you letters. Some people always write notes on Christmas cards, then expect to hear all your family news in a long letter in the next mail. A bunch of such Christmas cards are still on my desk, but I am not rushing to answer them. Maybe next Christmas I'll write a note on a card to them if we ever get started on our Christmas cards early enough.

All of this is sort of like the weather, we all keep complaining but it is pretty hard to do anything about it. You pointed out a while ago how serious the drought was, and since then we have had so much rain there have been floods all over the place.

SOME OF OUR friends' wells went dry because of the low water level in the ground and their wells still aren't working but they have to pump the water out of their flooded basements.

Things can't hardly get any more mixed up than that. Faithfully yours, MAX

"Goldwater's the Other One"

Goldwater's Strength

NEW ORLEANS

Whatever may be Barry Goldwater's future, and some of those who are writing him off may be surprised before the end of the year, one of his services to the Republican party and the nation cannot be ignored.

More than anyone else, he deserves credit for the rise of a two-party system in the South. Ten years of indefatigable crusading for conservative principles have given shape, direction and hope to countless people, mostly young people, in the South who have been unhappy over the years with the take-it-or-leave-it solid Democratic party in those states.

Year after year, those people have been confronted with nothing but Democratic candidates. They have had to take that sort of offering or lose their voting franchise.

True, there was always the Democratic primary, but the issue there was generally no real party or ideological difference but a choice among leaders of rival Democratic factions.

SINCE TRADITIONALLY the Southern voter has had to consider personalities rather than parties, it took a strong and attractive personality to become the basis of a Republican party.

By RAYMOND MOLEY

There is deep concern among some key Pentagon research men that Defense Secretary Robert McNamara made a defense blunder when he rushed in fast to order so many early - model Minuteman and Polaris missiles and nuclear subs.

For new space developments have made Minuteman and Polaris guidance systems out of date. We are now on the verge of being able to build much more accurate and reliable missiles. Fewer of these ICBMs would be needed to do the job and do it better. These more accurate missiles would make possible great strides in military flexibility.

DEVELOPMENTS in new types of steel will soon make today's deep-diving submarines obsolete. Before too long, it will be possible to make subs which can safely operate at much greater depths than the ill-fated Thresher, because they'd be made with the new steels that withstand 50 per cent greater deep-sea pressure.

Discoveries in command and control vulnerability to nuclear explosions call for large-scale changes in these systems. Some of these alterations will be relatively simple, some exceedingly costly to fit into our present setup.

It will be too costly to replace all Minuteman and Polaris missiles and nuclear submarines and command and control systems in line with this developing knowledge, except over a long period of time.

IN PART, THIS EXPENSE will be great and the results not so good as they might be because McNamara's extremely heavy investment in missile silos and missile submarines means that the next generation of long-range missiles will in great measure be limited to those types which can be mated with these silos and submarines.

New research on methods of "hardening" the electronic components of ICBMs against the electromagnetic pulse sent out by nuclear explosions makes it clear that the best comprehensive hardening systems require somewhat different silo configurations than those McNamara has invested in so heavily.

MILITARY MEN say there

Goldwater supplied that necessity. He became the symbol of deliverance from one-party rule.

For that reason, the new and growing Republican leadership is generally identical with the Goldwater-for-President movement. However, it cannot be assumed that if Goldwater should be eliminated as a presidential contender the new Republican party in the South would disappear. The principle would remain, and the party machinery to give it implementation would still grow and in some states take over the government.

After a week of study and observation in South Carolina, Georgia, and Alabama, I'm unable to assess the present status of Goldwater sentiment among voters. But I can say positively that no poll can accurately show that status.

It's true that the enthusiasm for Goldwater is somewhat less than it was when I visited the same states 11 months ago. But he had so much momentum then that the letdown after the death of President Kennedy still leaves him the outstanding favorite among politically minded people.

I met no one who favored Rockefeller or who had heard of anyone who was for the New York governor. Only Nixon is occasionally mentioned as an alternative to Goldwater.

THE ACQUISITION of Goldwater delegates provides something of more statistical significance than the measurement of opinion. And here Goldwater's fortunes are growing.

John E. Grenier, the capable Republican state chairman in Alabama, has been charged with gathering delegates pledged or favorable to Goldwater in the 11 Southern States. The business of selecting delegates is going on at this time of year in all these states.

Grenier, only 33 years of age, has a special genius for organizational work. He has been incredibly active, consulting Republican leaders in the various states and speaking at fund-raising dinners and also overseeing his excellent organization in Alabama.

Within the next few weeks all the delegates from these states will be chosen, and most will be committed or pledged to Goldwater. Some have been selected already. Grenier estimates that of the total of 279 representing the 11 states in Grenier's jurisdiction, a minimum of 250 will vote for Goldwater on the first ballot in San Francisco and most of these will cause of the fast pace at which scientific research was moving, any major missiles he built would become obsolescent before they were even in their silos, these research men say.

McNamara had before him the example of the Germans, who lost the Battle of Britain, and the Russians, who lost the air battles over Korea, because they settled too soon on producing in large numbers planes that were obsolescent when they were most needed.

the have-nots is widening. And this is happening at a time when the have-nots are more important to us than ever before.

Dr. Maul was referring to the small have-not colleges which cannot afford to compete in salaries with the larger wealthier ones. His survey shows that the median salary paid to all ranks of the college teaching staff is $8,163 this year.

But in the larger public universities, the median salary for men goes as high as $9,179. In large private universities, it is $9,541. In the small, private colleges, the men's median salary drops as low as $6,617. The figures for women are even lower—$7,322 in large public versus $5,549 in small private.

And this is happening in a period when many students will have to rely on the small col-be prepared to stick until released or until Goldwater is nominated.

I believe that this estimate involves little wishful thinking. For Grenier is a very realistic man. There are some sticky situations in delegate selection in Florida and Arkansas. But North Carolina is safely for Goldwater, except for perhaps one or two delegates.

SOME TROUBLE may arise in central Tennessee. But South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Texas are safe. The result in New Hampshire will have little effect upon this strength from the South.

In addition to this Southern strength, Goldwater in the next two and a half months will have 200-250 more delegate preferences in other states. Also there will be a fervor among these delegates at the convention which must be reckoned upon. There is, especially in the South, not only enthusiasm for the man Goldwater, but a well-grounded conviction that only with Goldwater at the head of the ticket in November will there be a good chance of electing congressional, state, and local Republican candidates.

FOR THESE REASONS, the research men think McNamara should have bought ICBMs and nuclear submarines, a few at a time, as was done with the Atlas and Titan.

They feel that if McNamara had gone at this expansion slowly, where he went fast, and had spent less on hardware and more on research, the U. S. strategic position would have been stronger in the remainder of the 1960s.

Instructors' Pay Lags

By TERRY FERRER

The nation's school teachers have been watching with active or passive interest the jurisdictional fights developing between the National Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers. Sometimes the huge "professional organization," the NEA wins, as it did recently in Milwaukee.

Sometimes the powerful AFT becomes the union bargaining agent, as it has in New York City.

So far, there has been no comparable fight to divide the ranks of higher education and, incidentally, to jack up salaries. Maybe there should be.

At least that is the first thought that comes to mind in reading the newest NEA survey — on university, college and junior college salaries for 1963-64.

For the last 11 years the NEA has been surveying these salaries in biennial reports. Each year, as it is this year, the complaint is the same: salaries have gone up, somewhere between 6 to 8 per cent, but that isn't anywhere near enough, and they still don't compare "favorably" with the professions.

All of this is quite true, as the American Association of University Professors also points out in its salary surveys.

But the fact still remains that the year-to-year improvement is slow, steady—and insufficient. The problem becomes particularly acute this year, as the real bulge of World War II babies hits the college campuses. And the numbers boom will build steadily in the next 10 years.

As Dr. Ray C. Maul, director of the NEA study, points out, "the gap between the haves and Contrast these figures with the median teachers' salary in the New York City school system. The range of city salaries is from $5,300 to $11,025, and the median is $7,000. That is a pretty fair figure for a school teacher, viewed in the light of the college campus salary.

The $8,163 median college salary places the college teacher behind the public-relations director, the head football coach and the athletic director. That is where the college teacher has been for time immemorial.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: I've been bothered by a personal problem and have been watching your column, hoping someone else would write in about it. Nobody has.

Why do women get crushes on their doctors? I'm happily married and have two children. I'm strictly a one-man woman and never have considered having an affair. Yet I'm sure if my doctor crooked his little finger I'd topple in a minute.

Of course my husband has no inkling of my feelings or he'd insist I change doctors. That would kill me. I have a world of faith in this physician and I even look forward to my visits to his office. I confess I actually manufacture little excuses to see him more often than is necessary.

Believe me, Ann, this isn't going to lead to anything. All I want to know is why do I feel this way?—GUILTY SECRET.

Dear Secret: It is not uncommon for a woman to develop an emotional attachment to her doctor. And it's understandable, because to her the doctor is a symbol of help, compassion, relief from pain, faith, hope, confidence, comfort and peace of mind.

To a woman, the doctor is the strong, wise, considerate, saintly man who listens patiently to her complaints — unless, of course, the doctor happens to be her husband.

Young Love

Dear Ann: I'm a girl 9 years old who already has a problem for Ann Landers. I did not expect one for at least three years but here it is already.

This boy I used to like lived next door to me until he moved to Kansas three years ago with his parents. I cried when he went away. He didn't write to me but I can't blame him for that because he was only 6 years old then.

I got a Valentine from him a few days ago. The Valentine was pretty but it was sort of late because Valentine's Day was quite some time ago. Also it was a Valentine that he had planned to give to a girl whose name was Nancy. He crossed out her name and put in my name.

On the bottom of the card he wrote, "Will you please write to me?" Do you think I should answer him even if he was too cheap to buy a special Valentine for me? Thank you. — VALERIE.

Dear Valerie: Why don't you concentrate on school and girl friends for the next five years? Boys will still be in style in 1969 — when you are ready for them, and they for you.

Orphans of Divorce

Dear Ann: My wife and I were divorced last year. We have four children — the oldest is 10.

My ex-wife has a no-good tramp of a girl friend living with her. They make the bars together at night and go with anybody who asks them.

Last week my 10-year-old telephoned me at 9 p.m. to say their mother didn't come home from work and they had not had supper. I went right over, fixed them something to eat, gave them baths and put them to bed.

At about 2:30 a.m. their mother came home — loaded. She was mad because I was there. She said the sister was supposed to come at 6 p.m. and that it was the girl's fault that the kids were alone.

I'm worried sick that my children are being neglected. I offered to take the children when we were divorced but my wife wouldn't hear of it. What can I do?—ED.

Dear Ed: See a lawyer. If your ex-wife is an unfit mother she should at least have the children. A mother who would leave four youngsters under 10 years of age unprotected, for any reason whatever, doesn't sound "fit" to me.

Try Tough Turf from Sprigs

By ALLAN SWENSON

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. If your lawn needs repairing this spring, Meyer Zoysia grass may provide a convenient solution.

It may be planted any time from early spring until fall, anywhere in the nation. Surface condition presents no serious problems, as Meyer Zoysia will grow on slopes, in poor soil and even in the salty soil found in beach areas. However, avoid deep shade.

TO GET ZOYSIA grass off to a good start best course is to clear the ground of old growth. Clearing the area lets new grass grow without competing for water and nourishment against old growth.

If it is not practicable to clear the area, Zoysia can be plugged into the existing growth. This aggressive grass tends to crowd other grasses until it takes over completely.

Planting Zoysia grass must be done with living grass, usually in the form of "plugs," because a true seed does not exist. Set plugs into small holes dug into the soil about one foot apart, in staggered rows, checkerboard style.

ONCE SET INTO the soil, Zoysia plugs establish solid turf by spreading toward each other. The grass grows down, sideways and upward.

Density of Zoysias growth is the secret of its resistance to insects, weeds and diseases. You can almost forget crabgrass and other summer weeds with an established Zoysia lawn.

Zoysia grass, however, does turn yellow with the first hard fall frosts, and stays brown or straw-color through the cold weather. Likewise, it "greens up" weeks later in the spring than typical northern lawn grasses.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: I want to say thank you, thank you, THANK YOU, to the lady who told me to wear my bifocals upside-down when I plucked my eyebrows. This is one of the best hints that has ever come along in your column.

For the gals who wonder what to do with wrinkled potatoes... Throw them all in the sink in cold water and scrub them well. Boil them with the skins on until just one.

Cool and store in a dish in your refrigerator and they are ready for frying, scalloping, making au gratin potatoes, potato sala, or whatever you wish. They have a wonderful flavor besides. They will keep until they are all use.

Do not peel them until ready to use.

GRACE.

Ladies, we just had to repeat the one about bifocals when you pluck your eyebrows. Those who do not wear them will never know what a help this is.

Just turn your glasses upside down and set them a little bit further down on your nose and pluck away. This is also good when lining eyebrows with a pencil.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you have socks that have lost their mates?

Pin them up by the toes on a large safety pin and hang them on a nail in the closet.

Lost mates have a funny way of showing up sooner or later. Matched socks can then be put back in their proper drawer. I have used this method for years.

A READER.

LAUGHTER FOR THE YEAR! DEAR HELOISE: I have been "through" teen-agers, raised one family and am now raising another. Tell mothers that if the children's untidy bedroom bothers them to just close the door so they can't see it!

You've heard of the expression, "what you don't know won't bother you." Well, after hitting 48, I learned that what I can't see doesn't bother me! That's the children's problem if they have to "step over" to get to the bed and their radio.

MOMMY-10-TIMES.

DEAR HELOISE: To keep raisins soft after the box has been opened, put the raisins box and all inside a wide mouth fruit jar or a plastic bag and fasten it tightly. They will keep beautifully this way.

SMITH.

DEAR GALS: If you happen to have purchased a big, heavy wet mop that you cannot wring dry, I have found (after using one recently) that you can divide the strings in two parts and wring each half separately with your small hands. This gets the mop much drier.

Here is the best way I have found to wash a soiled mop: Soak the whole mop in hot suds, divide the strings in half or thirds (depending on the size of the mop) and wash it in divisions. Gets it much cleaner.

And just why do small, tiny women buy these big, thick, heavy mops anyway?

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: To eliminate the "cling" in my slips I give them a very light starching. It works.

MRS. J. F. PENNO.

DEAR HELOISE: I find my curtains the same as I dye other things. And here is my hint:

I put the dye right in my detergent in my washing machine and let it run through the full cycle. Materials come out washed, dyed, rinsed, and best of all, the machine has been cleaned.

MILDRED I.

DEAR HELOISE You have been running a number of items recently on rug and carpet care. I'm a retired carpet salesman and would like to give your readers a few hints on how to

Yellow Springs Barber Closes After Near Riot

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Lewis Gegner, a college town barber who has been arrested or in court 29 times since 1960 because he refuses to cut the hair of Negroes, says he is closing his shop indefinitely.

Gegner's decision was made on the eve of today's preliminary hearing for the first of some 110 persons arrested during a near-riot at his Yellow Springs shop Saturday.

Gegner, obviously shaken by Saturday's demonstration, told The Associated Press the move does not mean he is giving up "but is being made for the safety of my wife and son and the dignity of the community."

Gegner said he would have closed his shop that morning had he known that a demonstration of such intensity was coming. Tear gas and fire hoses were used by police in an effort to disperse the demonstrators, mostly students from Springs and Wilberforce University and Central State College, both at nearby Wilberforce.

The huge demonstration was prompted by a court injunction approved last Friday limiting the number of pickets at the shop to three at a time and to an area five feet wide and 19 feet long in front of the shop.

Those arrested were charged with contempt of court for violating the injunction.

Feather Co. Names Beech Manager Here

William Feather, Jr., president of the William Feather Co. of Cleveland and its Salem Division, today announced the appointment of Robert P. Beech of Salem as Division manager, and reported two other company personnel changes.

William E. Enyart, who assumed control of the E. 2nd St. plant here in 1960, will return to Cleveland as vice president in charge of contract sales and production coordinator for the corporation.

Norman Ruessman, Jr., who has been with the firm in Cleveland for the past four years, will transfer to the Salem plant April 1 and assume the responsibilities of office manager. Ruessman expects to move his wife and four daughters to Salem about June 1.

Beech has been with the firm in a sales capacity, after transferring from Cleveland in 1961. He graduated from the Rochester Institute of Technology in 1960, majoring in printing production. He, his wife Barbara, and young daughter reside on Franklin Ave.

William Feather purchased the Layden-Hammell Co. of Salem in November of 1960. The firm since that time has enjoyed a 400 per cent increase in growth and now services industries in the northern half of Ohio and Western New York, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

NFL Reinstates Hornung, Karras

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League today reinstated Paul Hornung and Alex Karras, professional football stars suspended indefinitely last April 17 for gambling activities. The reinstatement goes into effect immediately.

Hornung, a member of the Green Bay Packers and three-time scoring champion of the National Football League, and Karras, an outstanding defensive tackle with the Detroit Lions, were set down for betting on football games.

At the same time, five other Detroit players were fined the maximum of $2,000 each for betting on one game and the Detroit club was fined $4,000 for laxness in reporting information to the commissioner and in supervising its bench at games.

Both Hornung and Karras admitted they had made substantial bets of $50 or more over a period of several seasons. The other five—Joe Schmidt, Wayne Walker, John Gordy, Gary Lowe and Sam Williams — bet $50 each and Karras $100 on the Green Bay Packers to beat the New York Giants in the 1962 NFL championship game.

Flood

Louisville and Cairo, Ill.

The Ohio leaked under a floodwall in Cannelton, Ind., Sunday, but officials said there appeared no danger to waterfront residents. Sandbags blocked the water's path and civil defense workers were standing by in case evacuation was needed.

The river crested 8.5 feet above flood stage at Owensboro. No significant new flooding was reported.

President Johnson, who made an aerial tour of the flood area Friday with the governors of five states, has assured the states aid would be forthcoming.

The Red Cross has established rehabilitation centers and urged residents apply for long-term aid. Some shelters were being closed as many refugees returned to their homes.

The Salvation Army, Red Cross and other agencies started distributing clean-up and comfort kits and civil groups began handing out clothes to the flood victims.

President Johnson has been asked to declare 47 counties in Kentucky and 12 in West Virginia as disaster areas.

School Boycott Fail To Muster Earlier Support

NEW YORK (AP)—The second civil rights boycott of the million-pupil public school system here today failed to draw the deep support Negroes and Puerto Ricans gave its forerunner six weeks ago.

Before attendance figures were compiled, the size of picket lines and the crowds of children entering schools showed the boycott would not equal the Feb. 3 protest during which 464,000 pupils were absent.

"There seems to be no parental support and no support by the teachers," said the leader of 20 student pickets outside the High School of Commerce in Manhattan.

The demonstration was staged by the Citywide Committee for Integrated Schools against what it calls de facto segregation in the city's 863 public schools.

The withdrawn support of several organized civil rights bodies apparently extended to the rank and file of the Negro community.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the National Congress of Racial Equality and the Urban League did not endorse the boycott. All three supported the earlier one.

In the Feb. 3 boycott, more than 464,000 pupils—about 364,000 more than usual—stayed away from classes. City school enrollment is more than a million. So did 3,500 teachers.

There is no segregation by law in the school system, the nation's largest.

A Board of Education integration plan was rejected by civil rights groups in January. The board proposed to join the enrollments of 30 of the 165 predominantly white schools.

Creaking Stairway Annoying And Sometimes Hazardous

Stairways don't improve with age. They tend to squeak and creak. Rails may become loose and balusters may break with time. Stair treads wear and stair coverings become loose.

At best, an aging stairway is merely annoying. At its worst it is hazardous.

If you silence a noisy stairway, you have also avoided some future danger at the same time.

The horizontal board, the one you step on, is the tread. The vertical board behind is the riser. The front edge of a stair tread rests on the riser below it. The tread also hangs out over the riser for a short distance. Molding generally covers the seam between the two.

HomeShow Scheduled April 2, 5

Plans for the 10th annual home show to be held April 2-5 at the Myers building at the corner of E. Pershing St. and S. Lundy Ave. are progressing on schedule, according to Wade Loop, general chairman of the event.

The home show is sponsored by the local American Legion post. Last year over 9,000 people visited the show.

Loop said that display space is being taken up quickly and estimates 70 per cent of the vacancies have been filled. Any persons wishing to enter a display are urged to contact him.

The exhibits will be more diversified this year, displaying a variety of new home products and equipment.

Featured will be household appliances, building materials, musical instruments, floor coverings, boats, lawn and garden tools, home decorations and television and hi-fi equipment.

Show hours will be: April 2-3, 6 to 9 p.m.; April 4, noon to 9 p.m. and April 5, 2 to 6 p.m.

SQUEAKING IS CAUSED by friction between tread and riser. Before attempting to repair the stair, determine the manner of construction.

Either the treads are nailed to the riser or they are of tongue and groove construction. Look for indications of nails. If they are present, you can be reasonably certain that tread and riser were fitted together.

If you are still uncertain, pry off the molding that covers the joint.

If nails were used, force down the tread and drive finishing nails through the tread and into the riser. Best way to force down the tread is to have someone stand on it. Drive the nails in pairs and slant them toward each other. With a nail set drive the heads below the surface and fill with wood filler.

IF THE STAIRS ARE of groove construction, use thin wooden wedges and drive them tightly into the joint. You will have to remove the molding before you can do this. If you coat the wedge with glue it will make the joint just that much stronger.

Trim off the part of the wedge that sticks out and replace the molding.

If the stairway is open underneath you can drive the wedges in from the underside and avoid the work of removing and replacing the molding.

Handrails become loose with time and should be tightened before they break away. The outside rail is very dependent on the condition of the newel post—the post at the front of the stairway and the rail's main support. Tighten the post by making the joint between it and the board or the section of wall behind it more secure.

BALUSTERS — THE SMALL posts that support the rail—often become loose or broken.

Broken balusters should be replaced or repaired, but in either event, remove to do the job. Sometimes stock balusters can be found to match. Otherwise a cabinet shop or a friend with a wood lathe may be able to make you a new one.

You can make the repair by drilling a hole in each piece so that a dowel can be inserted inside the baluster. Coat the dowel with glue, fit together and then glue the broken ends of the dowel. Clamp or the until completely dry, then refinish.

The handrail on the wall side may be loose due to nothing more than a loose wall bracket or two. Screws become loose in the plaster wall. Use larger screws. Use anchors if none were used before. Toggle bolts or bolts with expanding shields will make the bracket secure.

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: I have an oak table that I would like to finish with varnish. Before I do so, I'd like to fill the large pores with a wood filler. But I hesitate to do so, because of my last experience with wood filler.

After I had applied the filler, I followed the directions and began to wipe off the excess with a piece of burlap. As soon as I did so, the filler became dislodged from the pores and I had quite a mess.

ANSWER: This result you encountered was caused by wiping before the filler had time to set. This is the trickiest part of wood filling. If you wipe too soon, the filler is pulled out of the pores. If you wait too long before wiping, it is extremely difficult to remove the excess from the surface of the wood, which is the purpose of the wiping.

First, carefully follow the directions on the filler container on the method of application. Get ready with the burlap and begin to wipe across the grain of the wood the moment the wood begins to lose its wet appearance.

Professionals test the surface by sliding a finger across it. If the finger slides too easily, the surface is not yet ready for wiping. If a tiny ball of filler material begins to form, it is time to wipe. In wiping, use a circular motion, with a fairly light pressure. Remember that you are merely attempting to remove the excess filler.

When satisfied that you have done so, wipe lightly once again this time in the direction of the grain. The filler should be allowed to dry for at least 24 hours, preferably more, before the next step.

For Decorative Effect on Painted Surface Try Duster

Want a special decorative effect on a painted surface?

Try using a feather duster! This is no harebrained gimmick that sounds interesting but won't really work in practice. We've seen the results of the feather-duster technique and can testify to the novel and excellent results it produces.

It's not as far out as it seems to be at first glance. After all, professional masonry workers have been creating different textured finishes for years through similar procedures. The Italian Travertine Texture often used on stucco is obtained by using an ordinary whisk broom. After the finish coat is applied and troweled smooth, the whisk broom, held at a slight angle, is run along the wet mixture to produce the hillocks and hollows which distinguish this finish.

A CERTAIN AMOUNT of professional skill is necessary to get this and other types of stucco finishes, but anybody who exercises a little care can get good results with paint and a feather duster. The first essential, unlike the stucco method, is that the base coat be thoroughly dry before applying any paint with a duster.

Besides the duster and the paint, you'll need a fairly large flat, shallow pan of some kind. One of the metal trays used when applying paint to a roller will do nicely, although a pan which keeps the paint level is preferable. There should not be more than an inch or so of paint in the pan or tray while doing the painting.

IF THERE IS ANY TRICK at all to using the duster, it is to do everything lightly. Dip the duster into the pan lightly touch it lightly to a piece of scrap cardboard to remove any excess paint; then flick the duster lightly against the wall or other painted surface. Each touch of the duster will produce an unusual, interesting and effective design. You can space the designs as close together or as far apart as you wish.

In order to get the hang of this — and to see whether the results will be satisfactory for the purpose you have in mind — try the procedure first on a scrap board or on some wall where a bit of experimenting is possible. This will enable you to determine whether you want a strong or a faint design, give you some idea of the proper spacing and otherwise acquaint you with the various effects that can be obtained.

Buy House That Will Be Real Home

House-hunting couples with young children will find it easier to make a house a pleasant home if they'll keep looking until they find a house that has:

A real fireplace. Nothing adds so much psychological warmth to a home in the cold, dreary days of winter than the sound and the smell and the sight of an open fire.)

A dining room, instead of a dining alcove. It's easy to make the dinner hour a real family hour if dinner is nicely and leisurely served in a dining room, instead of hastily eaten in the kitchen, or in a corner of the living room, or from television tables.)

Built-in bookshelves — and plenty of them. The home of a growing family needs good books and having a place to put them encourages a couple to begin at once to build a library of their own.

Space in preference to expensive gadgets and the non-essential trimmings. These blind many home buyers to the fact that the cute little place they've fallen in love with will seem like a cramped little prison before they have lived in it very long. Often, a young couple can find a not-so-new house with plenty of living space for the same money a brand new, small-roomed house would cost them.)

A yard big enough for children to play in. (Houses perched on hillsides are picturesque — but where are children supposed to play football and baseball?)

If possible, a house within walking distance of a school.

Man's Confession of 2nd Killing Discounted

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Summit County Sheriff Robert Campbell says he doubts the validity of a "confession" allegedly made by William J. Lewis in the slaying of a second girl.

Lewis, an illiterate peddler from Hubbard, already is charged with the August 1962 strangling of 12-year-old Marion Brubaker of Portage Lakes. Campbell said Lewis, 49, made a second "confession" concerning 12-year-old Ruth Guthrie of Tallmadge but later repudiated that story.

Sheriff's deputies and police from Tallmadge, Stow and Cuyahoga Falls used a mine detector and bulldozer to dig in a wooded area off Ohio 91 in Tallmadge over the weekend. Nothing was found. It was in that area, the sheriff said, that Lewis told of burying Miss Guthrie's body.

The girl has been missing since June 12, but the sheriff thinks she may still be alive. "Maybe all this publicity will bring her to make her whereabouts known," Campbell said.

After abandoning the search in Tallmadge Sunday night, the sheriff said no further digging was planned unless some new evidence warrants resuming the search.

3 Northeastern District Teams Reach State Finals

Cage Classic Starts Friday

McKinley Is Back For Another Try

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If the northeastern district can make its numerical advantage stand up, one of its representatives should take Ohio's Class AA high school cage crown this weekend.

The area, one of six set up by the Ohio High School Athletic Association, boasts only 192 of the 513 big schools in the state—but three of the four finalists in the basketball title chase are from here.

This is the first time any area has won such overwhelming representation—and it left the eastern, central, southeastern and one to root for.

Only Dayton Belmont, the state's top-ranked team, stands in the way of a northeastern sweep in the Friday-Saturday frays at St. John Arena.

But if the Gem City Bison can get by second-ranked Canton McKinley Friday in the semifinals, they will be favored to give the southwestern district its 21st Class AA crown in 42 tries. The northeast has won six, the east six, central five and the southeast and northwest two each.

McKinley, tall and rugged, has been the biggest disappointment the tournament has ever known—but this could be the Bulldog year. Since 1924 the Bulldogs have been in the state meet 14 times—along with several trips to the regionals which are now counted as part of the big playoff—but they have lost five times in the semifinals and five times in the championship game — without ascending the throne.

McKinley and Belmont go into action with 24-1 records. The Gem City team has an 82-point offensive average to McKinley's 67.6, but the Bulldogs have allowed only 47.2 to Belmont's 54.7. Belmont is in the classic for the first time.

Elyria (18-7) is back after a year's lapse. Cleveland East last made it in 1924 as a quarter-finalist. East has a 21-3 record and averages 73.1 on offense and 52.9 on defense. Elyria has manufactured only 54.9 per game while holding the foe to 47.8.

Celina ICHS, second ranked in the final Associated Press Class A poll, leads the small school quartet with a 78.7 scoring mark and 58.3 on defense. Piqua Catholic, Celina's Friday foe, is 65.7 and 54.4. ICHS has a 26-1 record, Piqua Catholic 21-3, and one of the losses was 84-57 to the Celina team in regular season play.

Dresden Jefferson's defending Class A champs (23-2) have the poorest scoring average and the best defensive mark in the smaller school list with 65.1 and 49.7. Friday's opponent, Mogadore (16-6), has 70.4 and 63.6 averages—built up against Class A opponents for the most part. A Mogadore triumph would give the crown to the poorest-record team in history.

UCLA Risks Unbeaten Mark Against Kansas

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Note to the UCLA and Michigan basketball teams: Here in the middle of March, it might be wise to brush up on your Shakespeare.

O'Hara Hurt, Fails to Run At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tom O'Hara, the speedy miler from Loyola of Chicago, is looking toward the Olympic Games in Tokyo this summer and hopes to see some improvement in the injury that kept him out of the Knights of Columbus track meet here.

O'Hara, who had been billed as one of the star attractions of the meet, took the microphone at Cleveland Arena Saturday night and told the crowd of 10,478 he had suffered a groin injury and was not going to run. He said he was concerned about the injury and could not risk aggravating it in view of the upcoming Olympics.

While the crowd missed seeing the record-holding miler in action, they were treated to a record performance by John Uelses, who set an American indoor pole vault standard with a 16-foot, 4 1/2-inch leap.

Uelses was injured trying to go over the bar at 16 feet, 7 inches. He bruised his right knee on the pole going up and tore a blood vessel in his knee. Another record performance came from Diane Gerace of Trail, British Columbia, who set a world indoor high jump mark at 5 feet, 9 inches.

With O'Hara sidelined, Jim Grelle of Los Angeles won the mile event in 4:02.3, setting a meet record. O'Hara holds the world indoor record of 3:56.4.

DEFENDER GETS FIVE GOALS

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—The Springfield Indians may have been last in the American Hockey League's Eastern Division but defenseman Dave Amadio put on a championship exhibition in scoring five goals in a 7-1 victory over Rochester of the Western Division.

Previously, Willie Marshall of Providence and Ron Attwell of Cleveland each scored five goals earlier this season but both are forwards.

"Beware," warned the bard, "The Ides of March."
He might have added that what happened in December doesn't count.

Vic Bubas of Duke and Tix Winter of Kansas State have voiced the same opinion, in slightly less poetic terms, perhaps, but it's the same idea. More like:
"They'd just better watch a little bit out."

Michigan is matched with Duke and UCLA with Kansas State in the semifinals of the NCAA basketball championships and in each case the top-ranked team owns a regular season victory over its Friday night opponent.

Top-ranked UCLA edged Kansas State 78-75 at Kansas and No. 2 Michigan romped over Duke 83-67 in December matches.

"I made a coaching mistake in that one," Bubas insists.

"Both teams have come a long way since then," said Winter. "We're a lot better now than we were then."

He reflected a moment, then added:
"UCLA's press is a lot like Wichita's. We handled them pretty well."

His Big Eight champion Wildcats ripped into the Shockers' press defense for a 94-86 triumph and the Midwest regional championship at Wichita Saturday.

Unbeaten UCLA came from behind for its 28th straight victory, a 76-72 edge over San Francisco for the Western regional title at Corvallis, Ore. Michigan clipped Ohio Univ. 69-57 for the Midwest title at Minneapolis and third-ranked Duke blasted Connecticut 101-54 for the Eastern crown at Raleigh, N.C.

In games for third place, Villanova beat Princeton 74-62 in the East, Texas Western took Creighton 63-52 in the Midwest, Chicago Loyola outscored Kentucky 100-91 in the Midwest and Seattle defeated Utah State 88-78 in the West.

In the quarter-finals of the National Invitation Tourney in Madison Square Garden, New York U. upset top-seeded DePaul 79-66 and Bradley edged St. Joseph's, Pa., 83-81. Drake stopped Pitt 87-82 and Army surprised St. Bonaventure 64-62 in first round games.

Rockhurst upset defending champion Pan American 66-56 and won the NIAA championship at Kansas City. Carson Newman beat Emporia State 73-60 for third place.

Pirates' Rookie Hits 3 Home Runs

Batters Ahead Of Pitchers In Exhibition Tilts Sunday

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
This is the time of year when the pitchers are supposed to be ahead of the hitters.

Maybe so, but those weren't grapefruits rattling off the walls Sunday, as the major leagues wound up the first big weekend of exhibition action. They were baseballs, and by the time they stopped bouncing the big leaguers had scored a total of 129 runs in 11 games.

However, one fellow was ahead of the batters. That was Warren Spahn.

Spahn allowed one hit in three innings, and Milwaukee went on to defeat the Washington Senators 2-0, in the only shutout of the day.

Elsewhere, the Pittsburgh Pirates had the biggest day at bat as they feasted on the pitching of the Kansas City Athletics for the second straight day. This time the score was 15-7, and the Pirates had seven home runs, including three by rookie infielder Gene Alley. The Pirates whipped the Athletics 14-1 Saturday.

The Baltimore Orioles also made it two in a row over the New York Yankees as they raked Stan Williams and his successors for nine runs in the second inning and won 10-1. Minnesota had a six-run seventh inning in a 9-6 victory over Detroit. Jimmie Hall hit a three-run homer and Bob Allison a bases-loaded double.

Cincinnati had 17 hits as they battered the Chicago White Sox 11-7. The Sox fought back in the late innings as Charlie Smith hit two homers and J. C. Martin got one.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, touring in Mexico were beaten 8-5 by the Mexico City All-Stars, who jumped on Dick Calmus for four runs in the eighth. It was the first loss for the Dodgers after two victories in Mexico.

The Cleveland Indians got a split on the day. The varsity ended a four-game losing streak with a 4-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs as rookie pitcher Gordon Seyfried drove in three runs and pitched four shutout innings.

The Los Angeles Angels rallied for two runs in the bottom of the ninth to trim the Cleveland "B" team 8-7.

The San Francisco Giants, with Bob Shaw going six innings, scored a 7-4 decision over the Boston Red Sox. It gave the Giants a 7-1 spring record.

Rookie Richie Allen hit a three-run homer, his second in two days as the Philadelphia Phils trimmed the Houston Colts 6-2.

And the New York Mets committed six errors and lost their second game in two starts, 6-3 to the St. Louis Cardinals. All six runs were unearned, and hard-luck pitcher Craig Anderson was the victim.

Clay Willing To Defend Honor Of Black Muslims

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay says he's willing to defend the honor of the Black Muslims in a winner-take-all fight with former title holder Floyd Patterson.

Clay, appearing on a Chicago television show Sunday, announced he would welcome a charity bout against Patterson, with the proceeds going to the Black Muslims if Clay wins and to the Roman Catholic Church if Patterson wins. Clay didn't say whether he intended to defend his title.

Promoter Tom Bolan of Championship Sports, who nine days ago supported Patterson's "no purse" title challenge with a $75,000 guarantee but was rebuffed by Clay's manager, said in New York he doubted the meeting proposed by Clay

Sikes Places Second 4 Strokes Behind

Devlin's 272 Wins St. Petersburg Golf

By CHARLES STAFFORD
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus gave Bruce Devlin the word, and the word won him the $3,300 first prize in the $25,000 St. Petersburg Open Golf Tournament.

The young Australian, who credited the even younger American with helping him with his iron shots, used them to perfection Sunday as he coasted through the final round with a two-under-par 70. It gave him a 72-hole total of 272, four strokes better than Dan Sikes.

Sikes made a good run for the top money, with a four-under-par 68 over a wind-blown Lakewood Country Club course. But there was just no catching Devlin.

Jack Cupit also shot a 68, and finished five strokes behind Devlin. He didn't complain about the weather, but he said the wind — which gusted up to 35 miles per hour—made the course three strokes tougher.

Tied at 278 were Dave Ragan, Joe Campbell, and Devlin's friend and avid supporter, Nick-laus. Dow Finsterwald, who scored a rare double eagle on the 501-yard No. 2 hole with a booming four-wood shot, came in fifth with 279. His double eagle contributed to a final round 68.

Tribe Entertains Red Sox Today

Seyfried Impresses Indians With Pitching Performance

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — With 22 hurriers in the Cleveland Indians' training camp, you wouldn't think there would be a shortage.

But Manager Birdie Tebbetts was able to name only one pitcher Sunday night for today's exhibition with the Boston Red Sox here. He said Sonny Siebert would work three or four innings, and he would have to wait until his pitching coach, Early Wynn, got back from Palm Springs today to decide who else would pitch.

The problem was created in part by the busy exhibition schedule that had the Indians playing five games in three days.

The manager said he was encouraged by Tommy John's performance against the Chicago Cubs Saturday. "He looked fast and loose," Tebbetts said. "I thought he did a good job. If his arm bothered him, he didn't say anything to me about it."

Gordon Seyfried turned in an impressive performance as the Indians defeated the Cubs Sunday, 4-1. That was one of two Sunday games played by Tribe squads. The other squads lost, 8-7, to the Los Angeles Angels at Palm Springs.

Seyfried, 27-year-old rookie, shut the Cubs out for five innings and drove in three runs, hitting a bases-loaded double in the second inning. John Romano hit a home run and a single in three times at bat.

At Palm Springs, the Indians scored seven unearned runs in the second inning but blew the game in the ninth. The Angels picked up five unearned runs in the fifth and jumped on Jerry Walker for four hits and two runs in the ninth.

Two errors by Mike de la Hoz contributed to the Angels' fifth-inning uprising. Starter Jim Grant held the Angels to one run over four innings but he was relieved by Walker with two out in the fifth.

City Softball Loops Set Meeting Tonight

The City AA and A Softball Leagues will hold an organizational meeting at the Memorial Building tonight at 7:30.

Election of officers for the coming season will be held. Team representatives and persons interested in playing in either loop are urged to attend.

Plans are also being made to form an Industrial League this year.

Penn State's longest basketball winning streak stretched 17 games. That came between 1924 and 1925.

A word from THERON

at the Country Store

Last Thursday evening they had so many people at the Western Style square dance class that they were using the hallway for one set.

Johnny McKim wants to start another class some other day of the week, perhaps on Tuesdays. If there are any of you interested in gttng into a new class stop over this Thursday night and see Johnny. Everyone seems to be having such a good time and all are learning real fast.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Health Questions And Answers

Q—How does osteomyelitis affect a person? Can it be cured without an operation?

A—Osteomyelitis is an infection in a bone. It is painful and slowly destroys the bone. In the past the condition has been treated by opening the bone and establishing drainage but, although this relieves the pain by allowing the pus to escape, it rarely cures this chronic disease.

With the advent of antibiotics, treatment of this condition has improved, but special techniques are required to get a sufficient concentration of the antibiotic in the actual site of the infection.

This treatment is applied only after opening the bone and scraping out the devitalized parts. Dr. Stuart Mudd, working at the Veterans Administration hospital in Philadelphia, has been using a bacteriophage which is a virus that destroys the staphylococci that cause the osteomyelitis and has reported good results. This would be a nonsurgical form of treatment but it is still experimental.

Q—My doctor says I have porphyria. Is this an allergy? How will it affect me? What causes it?

A—Porphyria is not an allergy. It appears to run in families. The underlying cause is an excessive production by the liver of prothyrin, a pigment. The victim usually has recurring attacks of severe abdominal pain, constipation and extreme muscular weakness — especially of the hands and feet.

Some victims get dark pigmented spots on their skin. Exposure to sunlight may cause severe blistering. The urine may appear normal when it is first passed but if it is allowed to stand in the sunlight it turns the color of burgundy wine or darker.

You must avoid barbiturates because they aggravate this condition. Reserpine, cortisone, dimercaptopropanol and other drugs are frequently given but it is hard to evaluate the results because even without treatment most victims have remissions.

Q—What makes me have a salty taste in my mouth all the time? How can I get rid of it?

A—Excessive smoking is a cause in some persons. In others it may be due to sleeping with the mouth open or to an acid saliva coming in contact with a metallic dental filling. Such medicines as ammonium or calcium chlorid, sodium or potassium iodide and bicarbonate of soda taken over a long period will cause a salty taste. If any of these causes apply to you, you can get rid of it by removing the cause. You should also eliminate table salt from your diet.
